The Plan fails to address adequately plans for managing transportation in both Districts. In particular, both Districts have failed, against Government advice, to adopt the available powers (Traffic Management Act 2004) to manage parking of vehicles throughout the area, both on-street and off-street, with the result that now we see the issues which regularly occur in the towns in our area. The Police seem to have given up and apparently have no traffic warden resources. That situation does not promote sustainability and environmental protection. It is noted that Cherwell, Oxford City and West Oxon have successfully adopted these powers to the benefit of their communities.
