Q5. Please provide your comments below:

As a resident of Shippon, my family and I specifically chose to move to the small village because of its character as a small village, with strong historical buildings and feel. In addition to this we felt that the fact that Shippon is in the green belt, we considered that this character would be preserved for our children and others that would like to enjoy the traditional small village ambiance of the locale. For these reasons, my family and I do not see there being any exceptional circumstances at all for the village of Shippon being removed from the green belt; indeed we believe that such a move would be a serious depredation of the quality of the historic nature of the village and its numerous historic/listed buildings that are well kept by their owners.

I accept that there is a need for additional housing in Oxfordshire and that the site of the Dalton Barracks has been earmarked as a possible site for some 1200 additional dwellings in the future. But I believe that requirement could be fulfilled while ensuring separation from the small village of Shippon. And should that proposal be pursued in the future it should only do so on the basis of the district separation of that development from Shippon to preserve the historic and small village ambiance of the village of Shippon as outlined above.
