I am writing to object to the planning application to build 200 new houses to the south east of East Hanney. This area is frequently flooded, hence the fact that there is an old mill there. The land is also of archaeological interest. Has there been an environmental impact report done.? There are otters and voles there and possibly other species. The traffic on the A338 is already very congested and this will only get worse with these extra houses. Already all the children from the village have to be driven to Harwell to school. In view of all these facts I hope this plan goes no further.
